

DEADLY FIRE AT RECORD FACTORY KILLS OWNER

CIUDAD DE MEXICO, D.F.—Police are reporting that the fire at Novo Records which began last night around 2 A.M. is “almost certainly arson.” Fire Inspector Carlos Monterrey described the blaze, which took the Cuerpo de Bomberos more than three hours to extinguish, as a tragedy. “We do not yet know what could have motivated this terrible act, but we are coordinating with the police to see this brought to a speedy conclusion.” Police Detective Javier Gomez had no comment.

Jorge Novo, the owner of Novo Records, was killed in the fire. It is unclear at this time what Mr. Novo was doing at the manufacturing plant at such a late hour.
